Entries were submitted by individual producers, producer associations and packers.

According to the competition rules of November 2020, entries were classified in one of the following categories and the median intensity of their fruitiness:

Section	Median of fruitiness
Green fruitiness:
Robust	$m > 6$
Medium	$3 < m \leq 6$
Delicate	$m \leq 3$

Ripe fruitiness

EVOO from the Southern Hemisphere

A group of panels recognised by the IOC selected the six oils with the highest scores in each category.

The leaders of these panels, who made up the international panel of this year's competition, chose the winners in each category and in accordance with the competition rules. They used an evaluation sheet to score out of 100 the olfactory, gustatory and retronasal sensations as well as the harmony, complexity and persistence of each oil. They also proposed the second and third prizes for each category to the Executive Secretariat.

For the Southern Hemisphere section, no oils placed second or third.
